

Choose Option A or Option B to complete this assignment. Although this is a required graded assignment, I will award bonus points to the BEST (most creative and thorough) one from each class! You must include the following words in your assignment and circle them in your work. You will turn this in, so please write it on loose leaf paper or draw it on copy paper. Remember that this is a CREATIVE writing assignment, so let loose and have fun with this! This assignment is due Wednesday, September 28th, but you should have plenty of time to work on it in class on MONDAY.

These words must appear somewhere in your story:

atom	proton	neutron	electron	matter
families	Periodic table	chemical	physical	properties

Option A: Use one of the following prompts to help you write a fiction story using the words above. How long does it need to be? Long enough to tell the WHOLE STORY and use all of the words above!

Option B: Like to draw? Use one of the following prompts to help you create a comic strip or graphic story that uses the words above. How long does it need to be? Long enough to tell the WHOLE STORY and use all of the words above!

Write a story about a character who has a talent nobody knows about. If this character chose to show the world their talent, they would gain instant fame. So why does this character prefer to keep it secret?	You notice a light switch in your home you've never seen before. You flip it a few times, but nothing appears to happen. You think nothing of it until you wake up the next morning.	At birth, everyone is given a timer counting down to a major life event but they aren't told what it will be. Your time has almost come.
AFTER FALLING THROUGH TIME, YOU FIND YOURSELF IN A SCIENCE LAB IN THE 1800S. YOU'RE SURROUNDED BY GLASSWARE AND CHEMICALS. SUDDENLY YOU HEAR THE DOORKNOB TURN.	CREATE YOUR OWN STORY LINE! USE ANY AND ALL IDEAS YOU HAVE!	It was never supposed to come back. Ever. But here it is, on your back porch, with a red string tied around it in a knot.
All your life you have been shunned for being the only normal person in a family of superheroes. One day, your family is defeated and kidnapped. It's up to you to save them.	Forget the "superhero with a traumatic childhood." How would a person react if their life was wonderful until they got superpowers.	AFTER WAKING UP IN A DAZE, I FOUND NO REFLECTION IN MY BATHROOM MIRROR.
